Mucuna pruriens (L.) DC.:

Mucuna Pruriens is an effective alternative treatment for parkinsonism, diabetes mellitus and male infertility. The heavy, oily qualities of the seeds lend strength to any weakened areas of the body.

Mucuna Pruriens can reduce inflammation in the body. Also, Mucuna Pruriens can boost the immune system by increasing the production of white blood cells, which are responsible for fighting infections.

Tribulus terrestris Linn.:

It is used in traditional medicine for chest pain, heart problems, dizziness, skin, and eye disorders, to expel kidney stones, and as a diuretic and tonic. Tribulus is also marketed as a dietary supplement to improve sexual function and for body building due to the belief that it acts like testosterone in the body.

Tribulus may also stimulate androgen receptors in the brain, an action that can help the body respond positively to circulating hormones.

Withaniasomnifera (L.) Dunal - Extract (Ashwagandha): Ashwagandha improved memory and attention, sleep quality, and overall psychological well-being. Also helps to reduce stress level.

It stimulates the blood flow. Hormonal balance improves fertility and regularizes the period cycle. It also increases testes and sperm quality.

Selenium: essential element of the antioxidant system of human body's defence. Helps maintain normal physiological functions of the body;

Ensures adequate functioning of immunity, and regulates excessive immune responses and inflammation; Compounds of selenium are detoxifying agents against mercury, cadmium, silver, lead, and many other toxic substances.

Normalizes the functioning of the nervous system; Stimulates spermatogenesis and enhances male and female fertility.

L-Arginine: L-arginine is an amino acid that helps the body build protein.

The body uses protein to help build muscle and rebuild tissue. It converts this amino acid into the chemical nitric oxide, which helps the blood vessels open.

L-citrulline: Use for athletic performance and enhance heart health. Citrulline is also said to have an antioxidant effect.
